Role in DRIVE: Independent Scientific Committee member

Conflict of interest (COI) means a professional or personal interest that may influence one's judgment regarding a project. Sources of COI include (but are not limited to) commercial interest, professional interest, personal relationships, academic competition and beliefs.

Transparency is of utmost importance in DRIVE. The purpose of this form is to identify potential COI in DRIVE's expert committees. As even perceptions of COI are important, all interests that may lead to potential conflicts must be declared.

Each committee member is responsible for the accuracy and completeness of the submitted information as well as updating in case of change. In the name of transparency, the forms may be made available on DRIVE's website and disclosed in study reports and publications.
